

A13* - Emma

00:00:44

Shot:		Graphic:
Writer:		VID_SRCE:
Air Date:		DAD File:
Kill Date:

Muskingum University will hold the Dyslexia Dash five-k Run-Walk on October seventh at four-O-clock on the Johnson-Family-Track.

Anyone is welcome to participate by registering for the Ohio Muskies for Literacy, under the Dyslexia Dash event on G-A-dot-Dyslexia-I-D-A-dot-org.

Senior early childhood-special education major Jolie Black says this walk is to show support for literacy.

(Actuality)

Assistant Professor of Education Dr. Laura Reed says that there are more educators being trained to recognize signs of Dyslexia in children at younger ages.

(Actuality)

The Dyslexia Dash is held to support dyslexia awareness and literacy. All donations will benefit the International Dyslexia Association (IDA) for support.

Listen to the live broadcast of the Dyslexia Dash five-k Run-Walk on W-M-C-O ninety-point-seven, The Orbit, or on Orbit-Media-Online-dot-com.

For W-M-C-O, I'm Emma Snide.

Printed by Emma Snide on 11/29/2022 22:41:23